The Five Cricketers of The Year

Darryl Elliott

After a short stint away from the club two years back, Darryl's return has been marked by outstanding contributions at training and a consistent ability to make runs and get wickets for his team. This has been the best of Darryl's fourteen seasons with the club. His powerful hitting earned him 315 runs this year at the very healthy average of 28.6 His medium fasties off that economical short run netted 30 victims at just 17.6, which included a personal best of 8/45 versus Buckley Park. It is a credit to Darryl that he has had the courage to return to the club, that he has had enough dedication to get on with the business and now is duly recognised and rewarded for his skills and for such an excellent season.

Danny Fitzpatrick

A tall and classy right hander, Danny scored the most runs by any individual player this season. Captaining our Third XI to the finals, his 466 runs from 13 games returned an impressive average of 38.8. So impressive in fact, that he was able to force his way into the Second XI for the grand final where he performed creditably. He is a batsman with excellent concentration and his driving is the feature of his game. Danny seems certain to continue his career in a higher eleven in future years. Add to his captaincy and runs, Danny gathered some 18 wickets at 17.3 with his left arm medium pacers. It becomes obvious that Danny has made a huge contribution to his team during the season and thoroughly deserves this accolade.

Ray Storey

A foundation member of the club, Ray has served every eleven in the club with distinction over the past twenty or more years, and this season has been no exception. Rising to the challenge that cricket can offer to our older colleagues, Ray still shows the style and timing of a class player. He plays all the right shots in an innings and, as a consequence, is difficult to get out while runs come consistently. His 432 at 39.2 are testimony enough to that. Interesting to note that Ray's runs came in only 9 games this season. A handy medium trundle has also nabbed a wicket or two, and no one works harder on fielding than does Ray Storey. A valued and experienced player who has many runs ahead of him yet, I suspect.

Michael Harvey

A tall and elegant right hander, Michael is the consummate batsman. His playing record includes successes in grades of cricket far above that of Luscombe Shield, yet his application is no different when he represents Moonee Valley. When the ball is up he drives. When it is short he cuts or pulls. When it is on line, he defends. So simple is his approach and so perfect is his technique, Michael makes scoring runs look easy. His 432 runs at 36.0 this season included two centuries, both sheer delights to witness. In addition to this, Michael affords his captain a number of fielding options. He is a versatile team mate, brilliant in slips and equally effective in the deep. A great team member and a wonderful clubman.

Darren Nagle

A very strong and athletic approach to bowling has consistently rewarded Darren with wickets. His bounce and change of pace are effective weapons and, like all successful bowlers, he has stamina and patience. Darren is able to bowl long spells for his captain and still return to the bowling crease late in the day. Darren's 30 wickets this season were earned at an average of 19.3 and he has made an important contribution to his team with the bat making 227 runs at 32.4 There was a time, of course, when Darren opened the batting and the bowling for our First Eleven. These days his captain prefers to batt him down the order and where his ability to play according to the game's circumstances can be put to advantage.
